English

Fronted Adverbials

Fronted adverbials are written at the start of a sentence with a comma after the word or phrase. They tell us where, how or when something is happening.

Use the word bank of fronted adverbials (saved on the school website under this week's homework) to write a diary entry of your day.

Use a range of where, how and when adverbials to start your sentences. Don't forget the commas!
