There are some worksheets for this topic, they should have been sent or given to you. You can copy the sentences into your workbook or print out the sheets.

The word search has some words written backwards so look out for those! You could look for the words on the screen or print it out. The answers are there too so only print the first page of the word search.

You may find other videos or online activities to do to learn the parts of the body. Do not feel you have to use what I have given you.

Please let us know if you find any other free links that would be helpful for other children to learn English. Thank you. ☺
